The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a or e) as being anticipated by US

The reference teaches a method of making Amphoteric (neutral) anhydrous (column 2, lines 19-20) magnesium (oxy)sulfate by mixing magnesium oxide (such as MAGOX 93 LR 325) and concentrated (98%) sulfuric acid at a temperature reaching 150 C (column 4, line 42). While the molar ratio of the example is outside the range of the instant claims, column 3, lines 41-48 teach a range wherein the endpoint of the sulfuric acid content of 35% and corresponding 65% MgO by weight calculates to a molar ratio rounding to the integral 5 moles MgO endpoint of the instant claim.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6692656.

Column 3, lines 41-50 of the reference teach useful ranges for the combination of MgO and sulfuric acid to form Amphoteric anhydrous magnesium (oxy)sulfate. The weight ratio provided includes a range of molar ratios of 3.8-11.9, overlapping the range recited in the instant claims. Overlapping ranges have been held to have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art absent evidence of unexpected results found only within the range specified by the claims under consideration.

Claim 2 is allowable over the prior art of record. The prior art fails to teach or suggest making anhydrous magnesium oxysulfate by adding one mole of magnesium sulfate to 3-5 moles of magnesium oxide.

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art fails to teach or suggest adding gypsum and ketocarboxylic acid or oxy carboxylic acid to the product of claim 1.

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. A "use" is not a statutory class of invention.

Claim 5 provides for a method of using the product of claim 1, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).
